

NARENDRA MODI—A GOOD CANDIDATE FOR PRIME MINISTERSHIP OF INDIA

I gather from the media that Shri. Narendra Modi, presently Chief Minister of Gujarat is declared to be a candidate of BJP for Prime Ministership of India. Without reference to his politics and as an independent myself, I wish him success since I am of the view that he has positive qualities of nationalism and comity of cosmic dimension. I take the view that we should not have nuclear power in India. 'Nuclear never and Solar ever' is my policy. Japan, the victim of Tsunami of nuclear danger and earthquake has close down its last nuclear project according to the media report. Narendra Modi stands for solar power. No other State in India has developed solar power on a grand scale as Narendri Modi's Gujarat has done. Mahatma Gandhi and the Constitution of India are against alcoholism which is a multiple evil and ruinous for the Indian people. The only State which insists on prohibition and has put it into practice is Narendra Modi's Gujarat. So far as I can gather corruption in public life has been eliminated in Gujarat. As a man his integrity deserves great praise. On the whole his administration deserves national support and so I wish him the rare opportunity to be the Prime Minister of India who will implement the great principle of swaraj and eradicate poverty. I am a socialist by conviction and support Modi on the assumption that he too is a socialist and an advocate of human rights and Indian fraternity, justice, social, economic and political of the Gandhian ethos.

June 1, 2014

V.R. KRISHNA IYER